Douglas Fairbanks is Starred at the Bijou

Triangle Photoplay, "The Habit of Happiness," Fitting Vehicle for Him.

Picture goers will welcome the announcement that Douglas Fairbanks, appearing in "The Habit of Happiness," will be the principal attraction at the Bijou today and tomorrow. This picture is a comedy drama of an original sort. The piece is manifestly a vehicle for the astonishing ability of Mr. Fairbanks. His contagious good nature is here coupled with making people laugh—people in the picture and people among the spectators. He succeeds in both instances, particularly in the latter instance so well that he must be regarded as in a class by himself in this particular kind of comedy. One reason that Fairbanks registers so effectively is that he is equally good in serious moments, and this picture has a few of those—just enough to make its comedy stand out in sharp relief. The cast includes George Fawcett, Macy Harlan, Dorothy West, George Bakus, Grace Rankin and William Jefferson.

Fred Mace has the lead in a Keystone attraction, "An Oily Scoundrel," which gives the program a rapid fire comedy finish.

It is said that a well-known motion picture company has made an offer to Marie Dressler to appear in a burlesque of "Camille."

"Daddy" is the title of the new playlet being presented by Lewis' "Virginia Beauties" at the Palace theatre. It is as good as the opening bill, with an entirely different plot and a change of musical numbers.

"Daddy" will be presented again Thursday.

Large crowds have been attending every performance of this clever little company, and judging by the applause and laughter throughout the entire show it is pleasing everyone. The Old Dominion quartet has rendered some entirely new selections for the present bill and other specialties are introduced also.

The Willard-Moran fight pictures will also be shown at the Palace this afternoon and evening only.

Eleanor aPinter, who won such favorable notice in "The Princess Pat," says that next season she is going to return to opera and will not again sing in operetta.

An exceptionally good program of vaudeville is being presented at the Odeon theatre for the first three days of this week by the Five Dunbars. This is a splendid little company of players who put on a number of specialties in singing, dancing and added attraction.

Tomorrow, beautiful Helene Rondon will be seen in "April," a beautiful romance of the mountains. This is a Mutual masterpiece in five acts.

Margaret Nichols's bow as a Mutual star will be made in the forthcoming two-part drama, "The Masterpiece," from the pen of Nathan P. Oakes. Edward Coken will appear in her support. The piece is being directed by Thomas Ricketts.

"Big Jim Garrity," the five-part Pathe Gold Rooster release for April 18, shows for the first time Robert Edeson in a Pathe picture. Mr. Edeson finds in the title role a part well suited to him and as the big hearted, big bodied foreman of a southern mine is always convincing and forceful. He is ably supported by Eleanor Woodruff, who for some time starred in Pathe productions; Carl Harbaugh and Lyster Chambers. Lyster Chambers will be remembered for his splendid work in Pathe's "At Bay" and Mr. Harbaugh used to be in the Pathe Stock Company in Jersey City.

"To Have and to Hold," Mary Johnson's thrilling novel of the early days in Virginia, is showing at the Robinson Grand today under the direction of the Jesse L. Lasky Company with the beautiful Mae Murray in the stellar role and the clever Lesky artist, Wallace Reid, featured in her support. It is a Paramount picture, and this masterpiece of historical romance is faithfully reproduced in this notable offering.

The Paramount Travels is the added attraction.

Tomorrow the stupendous spectacle, "Cabiria," will be presented.

COURT RULES ON A GAS CASE IN MONONGALIA

Public Service Commission is Given Legislative Power in Court Decision.

CHARLESTON, April 26.—The supreme court of appeals, in affirming the circuit court of Monongalia county in the case of the Handal Gas Company against the Star Glass Company, says that "in the exercise of the power and authority to charge unjust or unreasonable intra-state rates, charges and tolls, so as to make them just and reasonable, notice to the patrons of the public service commission to be affected by the order, of the intention of the commission to make such alteration, is not required by statute."

"The power of the commission to alter rates for public service is delegated legislative power and the procedure in the exercise thereof is also legislative in character."

Affirming the circuit court of Mercer county in the case of Comisky against the Norfolk and Western Railway Company, the court finds that a carrier is chargeable in damages in the false imprisonment of an employee for non-payment of fare when he believes in good faith that he is entitled to free transportation. The proper remedy is ejection, not arrest.

The opinion in the one case from Monongalia and Mercer counties and six others were rendered by the court, one of the others being the written opinion in that of Smith against the county court in Kanawha, in which a writ of mandamus was awarded last week compelling the county court to name a certain list of election registrars nominated by the chairman of the county Republican executive committee. The court, in the opinion of President Williams, says in this case:

"Determination by the state executive committee of a political party of the right of a county executive committee of such party to elect its chairman and a member thereof, a person outside of its own previously elected members and of the regularity of its action in declaring the seat of a member who has moved to another state and filling the same and is based upon the usages and customs of such political party, and violative of no statute, is not reviewable by the courts."

The other opinions:
Roper against Roper, from Marshall county, reversed and remanded; Nell against Lumber Company, from Nicholas county, reversed and judgment for plaintiff; state against Cutlip, from Braxton county, reversed, demurrer sustained and accused discharged; Sizemore against Lambert from Wyoming county, reversed and remanded; Harvey against Shippe, from Cabell county, reversed and remanded.

er state and filling the same and is based upon the usages and customs of such political party, and violative of no statute, is not reviewable by the courts."

Thursday, May 4 Sparks World Famous Shows will hold forth in this city for a matinee and night exhibition and the rare, unique and wonderful things that have been promised on paper will become a reality.

The airy raiders who, in diaphanous skirts have been pirouetting on the expansive backs of beautiful and speedy circus horses (on the bill boards) will be seen in all the gorgeousness of tulle and seductive smile; the elephants will copy their pictured acts of comedy and go them one better; the contortionist will proceed to disentangle himself from the knots he tied in his responsive body last year; the acrobatic families will turn dizzy somersaults and the clowns will work off their latest comedy stunts to the great delight of the crowds present—we all like the clowns.

There is nothing on earth like the circus. It is the people's show par excellence. It is the one great American amusement that appeals to all the people.

The merit in a big circus like the Sparks show is in the fact that everything in the show is the very best of its kind. There must inevitably be riding acts, but the riders are the leaders of their profession. There must be acrobats, but the acrobatic artists and aerialists are gathered from the wide world, and are the best that money can procure.

It is this superiority in the quality of the performers that makes the Sparks show such a welcome visitor.

AMERICA

Surpasses Germany in Production of Mustard Oil with a Plant in Operation.

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Prior to the war abroad, Germany produced practically all of the oil of mustard used. Now the Mustard Oil Company, of Cleveland, has installed the most complete plant for the production of synthetic mustard oil. This is the only plant of its kind in the United States and the largest of its kind in the world. When put into operation, this plant broke the world's record and yield on allyl iodine.

The normal cost of one pound of mustard oil was $1.20. Now the cost is $28 a pound and not obtainable even at that price.

This new plant was designed and installed by Doctor D. Julian Block of Chicago. Doctor Block representing the American Chemical Society, will present a paper on this particular feature at the convention of the chemical society at Urbana, Ill.
